

ARE ALL AFTER IT

Rival Contestants for the Democratic Convention.

THEY ARE PRESSING THE FIGHT

New York, Cincinnati, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Indianapolis, Kansas City, Milwaukee and Detroit.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The last of the delegations to press the claims of six cities for the location of the democratic national convention upon the members of the national committee has reached Washington. It consists of about fifty Tammany braves, headed by Richard Croker, the head of that organization. The aspirants for the honor of entertaining the convention are New York, Cincinnati, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Indianapolis, Kansas City, Milwaukee. There are about twenty members of the committee in Washington, and they are besought at all hours by the members of the several delegations, but committees are few. Every boomer thinks his city is sure to be chosen, but no one can tell what the result will be, or make a decent approximation of the vote on the first ballot.

The national committee will meet at noon Thursday. The advocates of the several cities. It is expected, will be heard in public, and the committee will go into executive session to vote. Milwaukee will be represented by Mayor Sommers, Judge Donnelly, Gov. Peck and Senator Vilas.

A hundred Tammany braves have reached Washington to assist in New York's contest for the convention. Two of New York's leaders, Jefferson M. Levy and Comptroller Myers, are in the city. Mr. Myers says that the New England and middle state committees are unanimous for New York and not a few of the southerners would, he believed, vote the same way.

The Indianapolis delegation reached the city over the Pennsylvania road Tuesday afternoon. Mayor Sullivan and other prominent citizens are in the party. The delegates estimate that the city can comfortably lodge and feed 50,000 strangers. Editor Moore, of the Indianapolis Sentinel; J. P. Sheerin, secretary of the national committee; Chairman Thomas Targart, of the democratic state central committee; Senator Voorhees, and prominent party men of Indiana generally are using, with considerable force, the argument that it would be the best of politics to hold the convention in the pivotal state of the union.

Among the latest arrivals are the delegation from Kansas City, backed by quite a number of prominent citizens of St. Louis, that city having magnanimously resigned all claims to the convention. Among the speakers selected to present Kansas City's claims are: Senator George G. Vest, Gov. David R. Francis, Col. C. H. Jones, of the Republic, and Congressman John C. Tamm, of Kansas City.

It is reported that Senator and Chairman Brice is working for Cincinnati, and under the supposition that New York did not really want the convention. There was a feeling that the contest lay between Cincinnati and Indianapolis, but the appearance of Croker and his Tammany braves put a new phase on the situation, and it is the impression that New York will make a strenuous fight for the convention.

MERCHANTS ACCUSED.

St. Louis, Jan. 20.—Charges Their Agents with Embezzling Nearly $70,000.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 20.—Charles Weatherby and ex-Police Commissioner Stevens, who have represented H. B. The embezzlement is alleged to have continued since the year 1895. Weatherby & Stevens failed in that year, and taking charge of the business, Cladin & Co. put the two men in control as employees. Stevens' father, who is wealthy, becoming their surety. They were arraigned in the magistrate's court, being represented by T. C. Campbell, of New York. At the request of the prosecution the preliminary hearing was set for February 8. Weatherby and Stevens were released on $5,000 bond each. Civil proceedings will be begun against Levi Stevens, the surety. The total shortage is said to be nearly $100,000. Weatherby is one of the oldest merchants in the city, having been in business here for thirty-five years.

LOUISVILL, Jan. 20.—The imperial train which has just been completed for the German emperor and sent to Potsdam for his approval has cost the Prussian exchequer nearly $4,000,000 marks and has occupied more than three years in construction. Its eleven carriages, connected by corridors, include a study hung with royal gobelet tapestry from Charlottenburg; salon, upholstered in white satin; library, reception room, adorned with white marble chimney; dining room, kitchen and bedrooms for several guests. ### BANKRUPT GOATS IN JAIL.

He Is Charged with Selling Wheat Stored in His Warehouse.

SPARTA, Wis., Jan. 20.—W. E. Coats was arrested Tuesday morning on a warrant sworn by J. E. Jones, of this city, who claims to have had 700 bushels of wheat stored in Coats' warehouse which Coats sold. The case was adjourned two days and will be tried at 2 P. M. in default of which Coats was committed to the care of the sheriff. Coats, who was in the commission business, failed about a week ago. After settling with the Sparta bank his liabilities were placed at $25,000, with assets of $1,300. He disappeared shortly afterwards and was not seen in this city until Monday evening.

NINE WERE SLAIN.

St. Louis, Jan. 20.—A little before 3 o'clock Tuesday evening a party of twenty-two started out for an evening of enjoyment of the sleighing furnished by the recent heavy fall of snow. Of these nine are now lying in the morgue and nearly all the rest are in the hospital.

Those dead are: James Connors, William Krone, Al Metter, Fred and Gustave Neust, Andrew Stevenson, J. C. Schuffe, E. Van Bohren and an unknown man. The injured: James Barrett, Dan Bressart, Charles Frey, two unknown men and H. Wagner. Frey had both legs broken and one of the unknown men lost an arm.

The party was made up of members of Cleveland Fishing club, a social organization of white waiters in some of the leading restaurants. They were all in one conveyance, a large four-horse sleigh. Starting out about 7:45 p. m., after a sleighing drive they went to the Delmonico, a roadhouse near Forest Park. Partaking of a lunch the party reassembled at 10:30 for the return home. The drive was commenced with gayety, but fifteen minutes later at the Sarah street crossing of the Wabash railway the accident occurred.

A Wabash special train chartered by a local Legion of Honor lodge was returning from an evening spent at Ferguson, 13 miles out. The train, in charge of Engineer James Blanchfield, Fireman Murphy and Conductor Robert Dalton, was moving some 25 miles an hour, tender first. Owing to this last fact the engineer did not see the sleighing party until fairly upon them. The tender struck between the pole horses and sleigh, killing two of the horses and throwing the occupants out of the sleigh in every direction.

So great was the shock that two of the injured were afterwards found on top of the cab. The train was stopped within 300 yards of the crossing and returned to the scene, where the Legion of Honor excursionists aided in gathering up the dead and wounded.

Wallace had been engaged to shadow Sheffield, who was believed to be a shover of counterfeit money. Meeting Sheffield in a barroom, Wallace thought he detected him in an effort to draw a weapon, when he (Wallace) leveled his pistol at his victim and told him to throw up his hands. The command not being obeyed, he shot him. The dead man had $500 in bills on his person, but none have yet been pronounced counterfeit.

BOUND BY AN OATH

Reckless Kansans Enter Into a Secret Compact

TO SHED THE BLOOD OF MEN

In Members Banded, It Is Said, for the Purpose of Killing Judge Botkin and His Followers.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 20.—The suspicion that there was an organized conspiracy to kill Judge Botkin, Plummer, an attorney, Dunn, sheriff, and two or three other persons in the south-west, has been fully substantiated. The surprise was heightened when the plot was found to include parties in the city. Evidence has not yet been secured that will convict the latter, but still the evidence is such that outside of a court there would be no hesitation in accepting as true the charges made.

Sworn to Kill.

Three men residing in widely separated localities have furnished information concerning the masked men and their forecasts have always been correct, proving that they have never made guesses. While they are not ready at this time to reveal the full enormity of this criminal organization, they have learned enough of its workings to show that three separate oaths bind the members to obey the orders of the inner council without question, even though they may be commanded to the take life of their dearest relatives.

Sixty-Five Members. In the counties of Haskell, Grant, Stevens and Seward there are sixty-five members, all of whose names have been furnished Judge Botkin. These men are taken only from the alliance, and even then the utmost care is used in selecting proper material. The meetings are held only at Springfield and at Woodward, where the three degrees are taken.

Three Awful Oaths.

The first degree binds the members to stand by each other in public and in private, and to defend each other at the risk of life, if necessary. The applicant is pledged, under penalty of having his residence burned and his stock and crops destroyed, never to reveal aught that may come to his knowledge concerning the actions of any member.

When taking the second degree he swears to join any member or members in the protection of their rights and in resisting any personal affront or injury. If he fails in responding when called upon or reveals any contemplated action on the part of a fellow member his life may be declared forfeited by the council to which he belongs.

It will be noticed that in these two degrees there is no provision for enforcing the penalty. Every member is expected to take all three degrees. In the final degree he places himself at the disposal of the inner council in life and death. He swears to faithfully execute any orders issued him by that council. He is given to understand that the power of this "secret order of justice" will be directed against the enemies of one or all of the organization. He further swears that when ordered to "destroy" any member proving traitorous, or even suspected of being such, that he will unhesitatingly obey such mandate. When called out by the inner council or by one member thereof, he swears to obey, holding himself in readiness at all times to join any party for the extermination of common enemies. Failing in any part of his obligations, he places his life at the disposal of his comrades.

Met Before Dues Were Killed.

It has been learned that a meeting of this organization was held in a deserted hotel at Springfield the night before the Dunn murder at which forty-one men were present. There are no rituals or written work. The oaths are administered by one of three men who are now definitely located.

This information comes from one of three men who joined the society who has been spirited away to a place of safety. The other two are still in that county. They will be enabled to strengthen the evidence they already have as soon as the proper time comes. Within two weeks the plans of the prosecutors will be so fully matched that arrests will begin, when all the details will be given.

REJECTED.

Senators George and Walthall, of Mississippi, Returned by Large Majorities.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 20.—Senators George and Walthall have been returned to their places in the United States senate by large majorities. George received 101 votes, his opponent, Barksdale, 66. Walthall received 133 votes, his opponent, Clarke Lewis, 21. These victories amount to sounding the death knell to the alliance in this state, as that was the only issue in the canvass. Ex-Gov. Alcorn received complimentary vote from a colored member.
